

Protecting our Public Rights of Way

Westminster Briefing & IPROW, 20th Jan 2015

The 2026 cut-off date aimed to provide an incentive for local authorities to complete the legal record of public rights of way and remove uncertainty for landowners. However, with complex procedures and costly disagreements with landowners remaining, the record will not be completed by 2026.

Join this briefing to gain an up-to-date picture of policy in this area and hear from leading professionals to understand the practical implications in your organisation.

Event Page

Agenda

Register

Booking Form

What will be covered during the briefing?

Confirmed Speakers:

- Richard Cuthbert, President, IPROW

You will cover the following topics:

- Changes to the legal framework for recording, diverting and extinguishing public rights of way
- The Deregulation Bill: content, impact and how it will assist the 2026 target
- Balancing public and private interests and working with landowners to avoid disagreements
- Initiatives to record multi user routes: supporting horse riders, cyclists and carriage drivers
- Understanding responsibilities for meeting the costs of processing public path orders
- Successfully using different forms of electronic communications
- Recording newly discovered rights of way and dealing with requests for diversions
- Assessing and understanding the practical implications of the changes to legislation

See the agenda for a full list of topics

Why should you attend?

Return to your workplace with a greater understanding of:

- Changes to the legal framework for recording, diverting and extinguishing public rights of way
- How procedures will become more streamlined, flexible and light touch
- Balancing public and private interests
- Understanding responsibilities for meeting the costs of processing public path orders
- Successfully using different forms of electronic communications

Details & How to Register

Date & Venue: 20th January 2015, Central London, Venue TBC

Time: 11.00am - 3.30pm

Cost: £225 for one booking, £175 each for two or more bookings (see booking form for IPROW rate)

How to Register: Either register on our website or complete and return a booking form